Dear Friends,

The apostle Paul opens his second letter to the Christians at Corinth with these words: “Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies and the God of all consolation, who consoles us in all our affliction, so that we may be able to console those who are in any affliction with the consolation with which we ourselves are consoled by God.” (2 Corinthians 1:3-4)

When we were visiting my mom at her assisted living facility on the last Sunday of July, my cousin told me a pastor was in the great room, asking about celebrating communion with my mom and her family. He is a Methodist lay minister whose church takes communion to Gracemont each Sunday morning. He told me my mom was a regular attendee (she has talked to me about this many times). When I told him how many people might be in the room, he counted the cups and realized that meant the two women already in the great room wouldn’t be able to have communion. Those two friends of my mom told me, “That’s all right. This is our service to Sue.” About ten of us gathered in my mom’s room and shared the bread and cup. It was quite an ecumenical group — Presbyterian (U.S.A.), Presbyterian Church in America, United Methodist, Roman Catholic, and Southern Baptist!

One of my nieces lives three miles from Gracemont. Members of her small group at her church provided supper for my entire family on Saturday night at Emily’s house and lunch on Sunday at Gracemont. That simple act of caring and love meant much to all of us, as well as the best wishes from these fellow Christians.

As I joined my family for communion and around the tables for supper and lunch, I thought about the many outreach ministries our congregation provides for our members. It was a different experience, being on the receiving end of communion at the bed of my mom. I thought of the many time our elders and I have visited church members in their homes, rest homes, and hospitals to extend the communion and fellowship of our congregation to them and their families. As I ate, I thought of the many meals so many of you have provided for families who are in town during difficult times.

What I’m trying to say is, I am so very grateful for your ministry of consolation to our church members, friends, and community. It is always an honor to be with you in times of joy and sorrow. It is also a blessing to share the ministry of consolation with so many caring people in our congregation.

Thank you!

In Christ,
Phil

Sermon Notes...

PREACHING IN AUGUST “All in God’s Time”

The sermons in August will continue the series about time — our time and God’s time. When we are impatient about something, we’re likely to hear, “All in good time!” The sermons will consider what it means to live as people of faith “All in God’s Time.”

SUNDAY	SERMON TEXT	THEME
August 4	John 2:1-12	“My hour has not yet come.”
August 11	John 19:16-30	“It is finished.”
August 18	2 Peter 3:1-10	“The Lord is not slow about his promise . . . with the Lord one day is like a thousand years, and a thousand years are like one day.”
August 25	Rev. Jerry Bron, guest Preacher
September 1	Revelation 1:4 and Hebrews 13:8	“from him who is and who was and who is to come” “Jesus Christ is the same yesterday and today and forever.”

2019-2020 Horizons Bible Study "Love Carved in Stone:" A Fresh Look at the Ten Commandments by Eugenia Anne Gamble

The 2019-2020 Horizons Bible Study will begin in September. What would it mean to consider the Ten Commandments not as a harsh list of what not to do but, instead, as a "love letter" from a loving God? A fresh embrace of the Ten Commandments (or Words), author Eugenia Gamble suggests, may ultimately contribute to the restoration of ourselves and our communities and the furthering of the gospel in the world. "Moral behavior matters, not simply because immoral actions can anger or disappoint God, but because principled behavior is how love becomes real, both toward God and in community." Love Carved in Stone is a Bible study that helps us reframe the way we look at and live in the world.

Incoming and outgoing Coordinating Team members will be honored. Dr. Phil will introduce the 2019-2020 Bible Study at The Presbyterian Women's Well-Seasoned Gathering on Monday, August 26, at 6:30 p.m. All ladies are invited. Refreshments to follow meeting.
