FROM THE PASTOR

Dear Friends,

On March 23, 1775, the Second Virginia Convention met at the St. John's Church in Richmond. Delegate Patrick Henry proposed raising a militia in order to defend Virginia. Opponents of Henry's proposal argued for patience. Henry finished his speech to the Convention with one of the most famous closing arguments in history: "Give me liberty or give me death!" The few sentences before that lead to that climactic ending are worth hearing: "Why stand we here idle? What is it that gentlemen wish? What would they have? Is life so dear, or peace so sweet, as to be purchased at the price of chains and slavery? Forbid it, Almighty God! I know not what course others may take; but as for me, give me liberty or give me death!"

Patrick Henry's fiery speech and dramatic ending are reminiscent of Joshua's farewell address to the children of Israel. He also called upon his people to seek liberty, the freedom that comes from serving the one true God. Joshua presented the people with a clear choice: "Now if you are unwilling to serve the Lord, choose this day whom you will serve, whether the gods your ancestors served in the region beyond the River or the gods of the Ammonites in whose land you are living; but as for me and my household, we will serve the Lord." (Joshua 24:15)

As we celebrate our nation's independence on July 4, we rightly remember and cherish the freedoms we enjoy. We would also do well to remember that our liberty does not mean we can do whatever we want. Rather, free from oppression and tyranny, we are free to work for and live a life of liberty and justice for all people. Although it sounds ironic, our greatest freedom may come when we discipline ourselves to strive for the greater good.

That is certainly true for us as Christians. In his letter to the Galatians, which has been called "the Magna Carta for Christians," the apostle Paul writes, "For freedom Christ has set us free. Stand firm, therefore, and do not submit again to a yoke of slavery. For you were called to freedom, brothers and sisters; only do not use your freedom as an opportunity for self-indulgence, but through love become slaves to one another. For the whole law is summed up in a single commandment, 'You shall love your neighbor as yourself.'" (Galatians 5:1, 13-14)

Patrick Henry asked, "Is life so dear, or peace so sweet, as to be purchased at the price of chains and slavery?" Paul also talked a lot about our being set free in Jesus Christ from the chains and slavery to sin. As we worship each week and celebrate our freedom in Christ, we are reminded that that freedom brings responsibility: "Do not let sin exercise dominion in your mortal bodies . . . No longer present your members to sin as instruments of wickedness, but present yourselves to God as those who have been brought from death to life . . . For sin will have no dominion over you, since you are not under law but under grace." (Romans 6:12-14)

As we celebrate the 4th of July, we will see signs that remind us, "Freedom is not free!" That is a good motivation for how we are to live as concerned, involved, and thoughtful citizens. Also, remember that our freedom in Christ is not free — it cost God the life of his only Son. How will we use our freedom in Christ as we live as his disciples?

In Christ,

Paul

ACTIONS OF THE SESSION

At the Tuesday, June 27, 2017 stated session meeting, the elders and minister:

- * were led in an opening devotion and prayer by Elder Wayne Casteen;
- * conducted the meeting as a worship service;
- * studied God's Word in James 5:13-18 and 1 Corinthians 12:12-26 and discussed a reading "Ruling Elders and Pastoral Care";
- * heard a report on the June 10, 2017 meeting of the East Community of the Presbytery of Coastal Carolina from Elder Ann Carter and Rev. Philip Gladden;
- * approved a request from the minister to use continuing education leave and funds for reading and sermon planning for fall at the Cedar Cross Retreat Center, Louisburg, NC, August 29-31;
- * set Sunday, July 16, 2017 as the installation date for Zach Casteen as the Youth Ministry Leader (during worship);

Fifth Sunday Building Offering July 30

This offering helps underwrite the costs of maintaining the physical plant that provides needed space for many ministries of our congregation. Thank you for your support!

"Like living stones, let yourselves be built into a spiritual house, to be a holy priesthood, to offer spiritual sacrifices acceptable to God through Jesus Christ." 1 Peter 2:5

The Helping Hands Food Pantry Needs Your Help

Looking for a volunteer opportunity? We have just the thing for you! The Food Pantry team is looking for a few additional volunteers. Opportunities to help with this ongoing mission include the following:

- *Preparing grocery bags of canned foods to be distributed.
- *Picking up pizza from Pizza Hut on Tuesday afternoons between 3:00 and 4:00. Pack in ziplock bags for the freezer. Return containers to Pizza Hut.
- *Meeting the Food Lion delivery on Wednesday mornings between 9:30 and 10:30. Freeze meat. Sort veggies and fruit.
- *Distributing food on Thursday mornings from 9:00-12:00.

Right now we each take one week monthly to be responsible for the above duties. But, if you would like to assist with one of the tasks, that help would be greatly appreciated also.

Contact one of the committee members if interested or leave a message with Cheryl Brinkley. We would love to have you!

Jesus Keeps Showing Up

Sermons by Philip Gladden

Buy a Book and Support Our Youth Ministry Program!

A collection of Dr. Phil's sermons has been published by Parson's Porch Books. From the publisher's website: "Parson's Porch Books operates with a double focus. Parson's Porch focuses on the needs of creative writers who need a professional publisher to get their work to market. Also, we focus on the needs of those who are homeless and displaced."

If you would like to purchase one or more books, please fill out the order form below or call the church office. You may also order online at www.amazon.com or www.parsonsporch.com.

Each book costs $18.95. Please make checks out to Philip Gladden. All profits will be donated to the Youth Ministry Program of the Wallace Presbyterian Church.
