REJOICE!

Dear Friends,

On the day at the end of March when I wrote this article , I worked on my sermon for Sunday, March 31, the fourth Sunday in Lent. The sermon was based on what has historically been called the story of the Prodigal Son. In recent years, however, many people have started referring to this story in Luke 15 as the Story of the Loving Father. That is an appropriate designation, since the word “father” appears thirteen times in twenty-two verses.

Although I have never read this parable in Luke 15 as an Easter story, I was struck by what the father says to his servants when his younger son returns home. After the father gives the servants their instructions to dress the boy in a fine robe, put a ring on his finger and sandals on his feet, and kill the fatted calf for a feast, the father tells everyone, “for this son of mine was dead and is alive again.” Luke tells us “and they began to celebrate.” On Easter Sunday, the Father tells us, “this Son of mine was dead and is alive again! It’s time to celebrate!” That’s why we pull out all the stops in our Easter Sunday worship. The primary theme of worship on April 21 will be the age-old affirmation “Christ is risen! He is risen indeed!”

Our Presbyterian Mission Agency website says this about our Easter celebration: “The festival of the Resurrection of the Lord (or Easter Sunday) is the center of the Christian year. On this occasion the church joyfully proclaims the good news that is at the very heart of the gospel: that Jesus Christ is risen from the dead. Easter Sunday is the Lord’s Day writ large: a great annual celebration of Christ’s resurrection on the first day of the week. Theologically speaking, the faith we claim and the life we live depend on the affirmation, celebration and proclamation of Christ’s resurrection. Easter is not simply the miracle of a dead person raised from the grave, but a celebration of power that can shatter death in order that people can freely serve the God of life.”

If you are in town on Sunday, April 21, I hope you will worship with us at the Wallace Presbyterian Church. If you are visiting family or friends somewhere else, I hope you will find a house of worship and attend. On Easter Sunday, we will join with Christians around the world as we celebrate the loving Father sharing the good news with us, “this Son of mine was dead and is alive again! It’s time to celebrate!”

In Christ,
Phil

We'll also have another outing away from church, in addition to our regular meetings at church. Be on the lookout for the Chili cook-off Cookbook available soon! It will include all the recipes from the competitors in the Cook-off, including the Winner, Mrs. Karen Bittner!
