

While
we sleep, Syrians flee from rockets and mortars.

War rages in Syria. But the Church is faithfully bringing spiritual, emotional and physical relief to the people. They desperately need our help.

In Mhardeh, the Presbyterian Church tries to keep life normal. Rev. Ma'an Bitar continues the kindergarten with 70 children, while its members open their homes to those who have had to flee. It is the light of Christ.

In Aleppo, the Presbyterian Church gives blood for the injured, provides water from its well for the neighborhood, and it provides sanctuary. It is faithful.

In Lebanon, the Synod of Syria and Lebanon supports refugee camps and has opened four schools for Syrian children, most of whom are Muslim and have not had school due to war. It is love in Jesus' name.

We invite you to join The Outreach Foundation in support of the work and witness of the Presbyterian Church in Syria through its 18 congregations and eight pastors and the Presbyterian Church in Lebanon. Let us not become weary in doing good, for at the proper time we will reap a harvest if we do not give up. Therefore, as we have opportunity, let us do good to all people, especially to those who belong to the family of believers. (Gal. 6:9-10)
